3	This month's focus: Reviewing less-known BullCharts features. Like many software tools and applications, BullCharts includes many features, many of which most users will not use very often, or perhaps have forgotten about, or are simply not even aware of. But these features can be so very useful. In this session we will review many of these, including the following: <ol style="list-style-type: none"> 1. Managing non-ASX securities – The available databases (US equities, Commodities, etc.), and “other” overseas securities. 2. Search for a Stock Code, or Name. eg. How to find gold stocks. 3. Managing watchlists – forcing a sort sequence. 4. Security Manager – “colour the entries”, then “sort” the list. 5. Security Manager – several ways to sort the watchlist contents. 6. Watchlists – “Copy (watchlist) Symbols” to Windows clipboard – but why? 7. “Detailed Watchlist”. 8. How to measure the price change over a specific period of time – using: <ul style="list-style-type: none"> (a) Cross hair cursor, (b) Info Window, (c) Trade Ruler, etc. 9. Chart annotations:- lines, text, circles, etc. 10. Are your charts too messy with annotations etc.? 11. Make use of multiple price chart “windows” – same time period, or different. 12. Synchronise chart windows. 13. Comparative Percent Performance chart. 14. “Flip through securities”. 15. Training Mode. [Past presentations can be downloaded from this BCUG Presentations folder.]	60	Robert and all
4	ASX Share Trading Game – The first ASX 2025 Share Market Game ended in early July, and we can now read the latest Game Newsletter which announces the winners and their strategies: https://www.asx.com.au/blog/sharemarket-game-news. Registrations for the next game will open on 10 July with the game running from 7 August to 20 November. See more game information (login to ASX website to see more details): https://game.asx.com.au/game/info/public/about-the-game (You can also download a list of all 365 securities in this game.)	0

 Matthew Flinders Hotel – How to find the hotel Board Room

Venue location – The Matthew Flinders Hotel is at: 667 Warrigal Rd, Chadstone, on the east side of busy Warrigal Road, just 350 metres from Holmesglen train station, and 750 metres north of the Monash Freeway. Just north of the Bunnings store and car park.

Car Parking – This is available all around the hotel building, and easy hotel access is available on two sides. It's best to park on the Warrigal Road side of the venue towards the up-hill southern end of the car park (towards Dandenong Road and Monash Freeway), and then access the venue through the main front door which has a Reception Desk inside the door on the left.

Hotel Boardroom meeting room – Our regular monthly user group meeting will start promptly at 7.30pm as normal, in the venue's meeting room known as the "Boardroom". This is fairly well hidden down the back of the large Longitude Function Room. After entering the hotel main entrance into the entry foyer, turn right into the Longitude Function Room(s). Walk down the left side of the function room almost to the very end, and turn left into the passageway that leads to the Boardroom.
